The Athletics on their own grounds made use of the Washington team yesterday to steal up on the leaders in the American League race by two victories. They took the first game by the score of 8 to 4 and the second by the score of 4 to 3. An enthusiastic crowd of 4,004 sat through the double attraction.

With the Athletics pounding out singles, doubles, triples and home runs with ceaseless regularity, the Senators never had a chance to win the first game. In addition to this they had to face Plank, whose delivery is too deceptive even for the Boston champions, and as for the despised Washingtonians, he has them at his mercy from the start. To add to these troubles, the Athletics took most kindly to the pitching of Hughes and pounded his curves to every corner of the field and some to the streets beyond. Noonan used Hughes to secure his first home run of the season, dropping the ball over the left field fence in the third inning. His example was emulated by Hartel in the sixth, with the difference that Hartel used the right field fence for his effort.

Although the Athletics outbatted the Senators more than two to one in the second contest they had a narrow escape from defeat. As it was they owe their delivery to the timely arrival of Bender, who rescued Rube Waddell at the close of the second inning. Rube made his way through the first round in safety, but trouble overwhelmed him in the next when he allowed two hits, and single-handed was responsible for two errors, a combination which brought in two runs. While making one of his misdeeds in the second, trying to put Mullin out on a ground ball, he struck Mullin on the head with the ball, and injured his shoulder. Rube quickly showed signs of distress, but finished the game. Bender immediately stopped what looked to be a batting rally for the Senators, and in the seventh innings which he pitched struck out eight men and allowed but two hits.

The First Game.

Washington was the first to score in the initial contest. Hughes led off with a double, and after two men were out and Stahl had been advanced to first on balls scored on Huelman's double. Mullin, who followed, struck out.

The Athletics went the Senators one better by scoring twice in the same inning. Plank was out on an easy ground ball to Mullin. Hartel followed with a double but was caught at third on Pickering's grounder to Hughes. Noonan then came to the plate and lined over the left field fence for a home run, scoring Pickering ahead of him. The Athletics added another run in the fourth on a single by Mullin. Cross bled hit by a pitched ball, a fielder's choice for Powers and a hit by Plank. These runs made the score six to one in the fifth. Noonan led off with a single and L. Cross was safe on Huelman's muff in left field. Stahl secured the next run on a single by Cross. Cross bled hit by a pitched ball, a fielder's choice for Powers and a hit by Plank. These runs made the score six to one in the fifth.

Cross ended the inning by forcing Noonan at second.

The Athletics won the game in the sixth inning when they scored three runs. Lave Cross led off with a single and scored on a smashing two-bagger by Seybold against the center field fence. A fine hit by Murphy then scored Seybold. A passed ball and two sacrifice hits by M. Cross and Huelman scored Murphy with one hit and any chance to score in the remainder of the game.

for two games with the Highlanders, and should the latter beat Boston today a good record would be made for the contest.

"Rube" Waddell is such a "fakir" that it is hard to say whether his injury yesterday is serious or not. He is a great pitcher, and his manager, Manager M. M. M., has pennant aspirations
